Background of the Council for the Built Environment

The Council for the Built Environment (CBE), located in Pretoria, is a statutory body established in terms of the Council for the Built Environment Act (No. 43 of 2000). It is an overarching body that coordinates the six Professional Councils (architecture, engineering, landscape architects, project and construction management, property valuation and quantity surveying). The CBE is bound by its mandate to ensure sustainable built environment professions which serve public and national interest. It is also mandated to advise government on human resources development within the built environment sector.

The CBE is mandated to act as an appellate body for decisions emanating from the six Professional Councils. In terms of Section 21(c) of the CBE Act a person specializing in the professional field concerning the appeal must be appointed as one of the members of the Appeal Committee.

The CBE requests that individuals who qualify in terms of the qualification criteria mentioned below to submit C.V's for consideration and appointment as members of the Appeal Committee.
